

Test your knowledge on the data ecosystem

Practice Assignment • 8 min

1. In your role as a data professional, you examine a dataset of taxi rides to determine which hour of the day typically has the highest demand. Under which discipline does this example best fall?

1 / 1 point

- ☒ Data analysis
- ☐ Data science
- ☐ Data analytics
- ☐ Data wrangling

✓ Correct

2. Fill in the blank: A _____ encompasses the various elements that interact with one another in order to produce, manage, store, organize, analyze, and share data.

1 / 1 point

- ☐ data source
- ☒ data ecosystem
- ☐ cloud system
- ☐ business transformation

✓ Correct

A data ecosystem encompasses the various elements that interact with one another in order to produce, manage, store, organize, analyze, and share data.

3. When building data into business strategy, why is it important to include insights from subject-matter experts? Select all that apply.

0.75 / 1 point

☒ They are familiar with the business problem.

☒ Correct

It's important to include insights from subject-matter experts because they are familiar with the business problem and can review analysis results and help identify inconsistencies. Plus, their experience and human intuition are valuable to data-driven decision-making.

☐ They are responsible for finding and analyzing data to uncover trends, patterns, and relationships.

☐ Their experience and human intuition are valuable to data-driven decision-making.

☒ They can review analysis results and help identify inconsistencies.

☒ Correct

It's important to include insights from subject-matter experts because they are familiar with the business problem and can review analysis results and help identify inconsistencies. Plus, their experience and human intuition are valuable to data-driven decision-making.

4. An e-commerce website collects, observes, and analyzes its customers' online behaviors. Then, it uses the insights gained to choose when to put certain products on sale. What business practice does this describe?

1 / 1 point

☐ Analytical thinking

☐ Performance measurement

☐ Organizing data

☒ Data-driven decision-making

☒ Correct

An e-commerce website collecting, observing, and analyzing its customers' online behaviors, then using the insights gained to choose when to put certain products on sale, describes data-driven decision making. Data-driven decision-making is using facts to guide business strategy.